What is EFMP?

EXCEPTIONAL FAMILY MEMBER PROGRAM

The Navy's Exceptional Family Member Program (EFMP) serves military families with special needs. The EFMP is a mandatory enrollment program for sponsors with qualifying family members. Enrollment in the EFMP ensures maximum provision of services to the family throughout the sponsor's career.

The Navy's Exceptional Family Member Program (EFMP) assists Navy families with special needs to include:

- Specialized Medical and Dental care
- Developmental requirements
- Special Education requirements
- Accessibility/Adaptive equipment
- Assistive Technology devices and services
- Specific mental health conditions

Parent Organizations and the California Department of Education

The California Department of Education (CDE), Special Education Division, works closely with federal-and-state-funded parent organizations to increase parent participation and collaboration between parents and educators to improve the educational system.

Parent Training and Information Center

Background

There are seven Parent Training and Information Centers in CA. Each Parent Training and Information Center (PTIC) is a parent-directed non-profit 501(c)(3) organization funded by the U.S. Department of Education, authorized under the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA), and often enhanced by private sources. Every state in the United States has a funded PTIC.

IDEA states that PTICs will provide parents of children, ages birth through twenty-six with disabilities, including low-income parents, parents of limited English-proficient children, and parents with disabilities, with the training and information they need to enable them to participate effectively in helping their children with disabilities to:

- Meet developmental and functional goals, and the challenging academic achievement goals that have been established for all children;
- Be prepared to lead productive, independent adult lives, to the maximum extent possible; and
- Provide training and information on parent rights, responsibilities, and protections under IDEA in order to develop the skills necessary to cooperatively and effectively participate in planning and decision-making relating to early intervention, educational, and transitional services.

Core Programs

These core programs and services are offered by each of the California PTICs:

Workshops which cover:

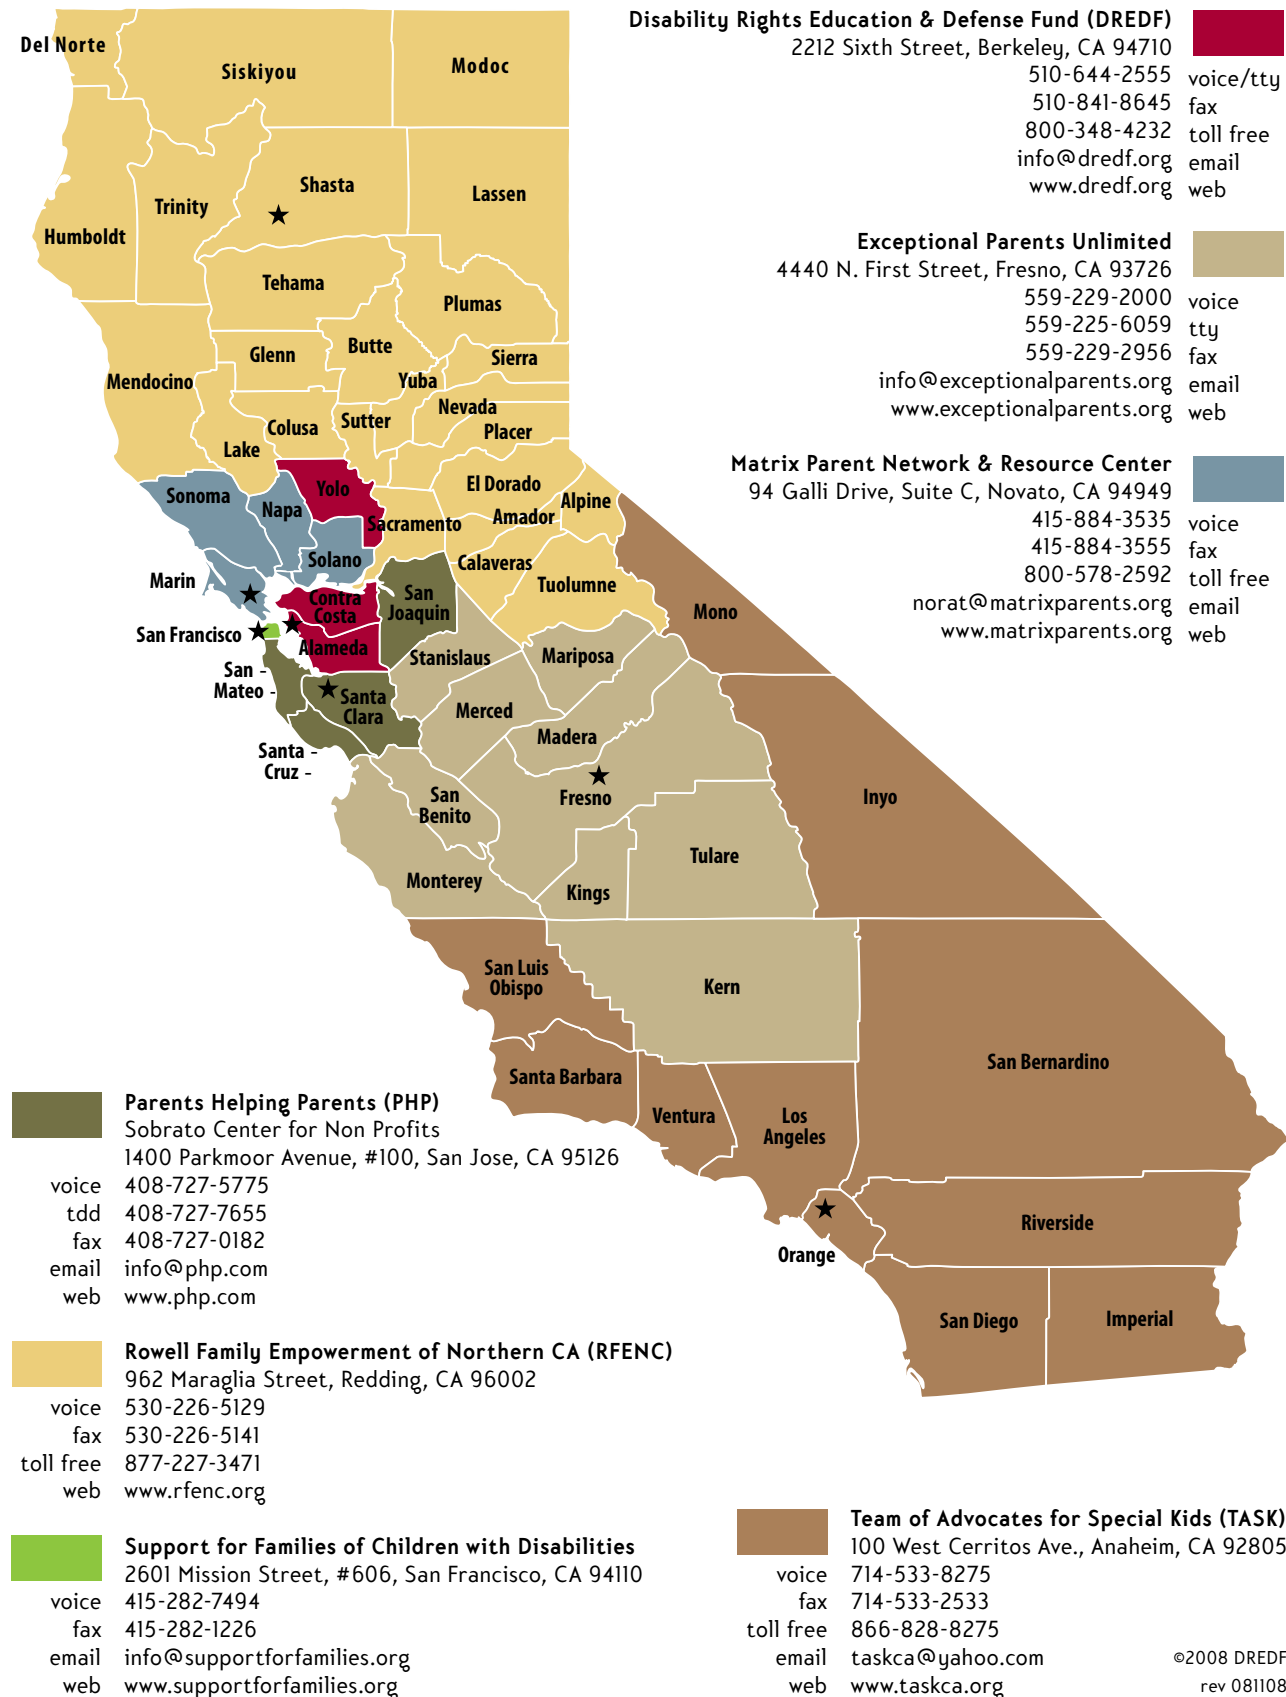

- Disability awareness programs
- Individualized Educational Programs (IEPs)
- Parent and student rights and responsibilities under IDEA
- Parent mentor training
- Transition to public school
- Transition from school to adult life
- Surrogate Parent Appointment and Responsibilities
- Parent-to-Parent Support
- Assistance and Advocacy for educational issues and other services (e.g., Supplemental Security Income (SSI), Respite)
- Support Groups
- Information and Referral
- Resource Library and Information Packets on a variety of topics including different types of disabilities

California Community Parent Resource Centers

Background

The Community Parent Resource Center (CPRC), as described in 20 United States Code 1472, will help ensure that under-served parents of children, ages birth through twenty-six with disabilities, including low income parents, parents of limited English-proficient children, and parents with disabilities, have the training and information the parents need to enable the parents to participate effectively in helping their children with disabilities.

Each CPRC shall:

- Provide training and information that meets the training and information needs of parents of children with disabilities,
- Carry out the activities required of PTICs, and
- Be designed to meet the specific needs of families who experience significant isolation from available sources of information and support.

Senate Bill 511, Family Empowerment Centers

Background

SB 511, enacted as Education Code 56400-56414, established the Family Empowerment Centers (FECs). The FECs provide services to families with children with disabilities ages three to twenty-two. The intent of the legislature is to ensure that parents, guardians, and families of children and young adults with disabilities have access to accurate information, specialized training, and peer-to-peer support. Each FEC is a non-profit 501 (c)(3). Funding for the FECs is based upon a specific formula. A rate of $150,000.00 is allocated annually to each center to provide the basic services. Additional funding for each FEC is determined according to school enrollment of the region served.

As a condition of funding each FEC shall do all of the following:

- Provide training and information that meets the needs of the parents and guardians of children and young adults with disabilities;
- Work with community based organizations;

- Provide training and support to parents and guardians of children and young adults with disabilities;
- Participate in decision-making processes and the development of individualized education programs;
- Promote positive parent and professional collaboration with local education agencies, special education local plan areas, and other community agencies; and
- Participate and support surrogate parent training.

Parent Links

<https://www.cde.ca.gov/fg/fo/profile.asp?id=2249>
“Hope, Dream, Achieve!”

Parent Links empowers parents of deaf or hard of hearing infants and toddlers by providing them with comprehensive information and awareness through mentoring, networking, and resources, and by honoring the family’s relationship with their child and their choices in language and communication opportunities. This program is for families with children identified as deaf or hard of hearing ages birth to 3 years old. Parent Links parent mentors have children who are deaf or hard of hearing. We are here to support, provide information on education and communication opportunities as well as connections to other families. Parent Links is a program of the CDE funded by a federal Maternal and Child Health Bureau grant.

Seeds of Partnership

<https://www.seedsofpartnership.org/>
Seeds of Partnership provides assistance on behalf of the California Department of Education, Special Education Division to support the direction, initiatives, and activities that are a part of the State Performance Plan (SPP) related to the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) indicators. We aim to create or provide avenues and tools to increase improvement of partnerships and provide professional learning resources that will assist local educational agencies seeking to improve their family engagement practices and educational outcomes.

Other State Resources

California Hands & Voices

<https://www.cahandsandvoices.org/>
California Hands & Voices is dedicated to supporting families with children who are deaf or hard of hearing in a respectful and non-judgmental manner regarding language opportunities, communication tools or educational approaches. This is a parent-driven non-profit organization providing families with the resources, networks, and information to improve communication access and educational outcomes for their children; outreach activities, parent/professional collaboration; and advocacy efforts focused on enabling children who are deaf or hard of hearing to reach their highest potential.

Department of Developmental Services: Early Start Family Resource Centers

<https://www.dds.ca.gov/services/early-start/family-resource-center/>
Families of infants and toddlers, birth to thirty-six months at risk of or with developmental delays and disabilities, can receive parent-to-parent support from Early Start Family Resource Centers and Networks.

California Department of Education

<https://www.cde.ca.gov/sp/se/>
This lists laws, regulations, and policies as well as services and resources available to students with disabilities.

Disability Rights California (DRC)

www.disabilityrightsca.org
DRC is a disability rights advocacy group. It published the well regarded Special Education Rights and Responsibilities (SERR) Manual available for free on its website. It covers all areas of special education in California from birth to transition plans.

Community Alliance for Special Education (CASE)

<https://caseadvocacy.org>
CASE is a smaller organization in Northern California. It assists DRC with revising the SERR. Note that the copy of SERR on the CASE site is outdated. It has a lot of good information on special education and Covid-19.

Disability Rights Education and Defense Fund (DREDF)

<https://dredf.org/>
DREDF offers trainings aimed at parents of children with disabilities. It also practices legal advocacy and policy changes for the benefit of the disabled community. It publishes a parent guide on special education due process.
